One piece of office equipment you can dispense with.

For year's the waste-paper bin has been your average office copier's faithful sidekick. Now you can kick it aside. For good. Because Barratt Copying has arrived—with Canon copiers. The name on the most outstanding range of photocopying equipment your money can buy. Whatever your workload. Whatever your budget. You'll find a Canon to suit. Each one equipped for reliability with the latest microtechnology. And, you'll be agreeably surprised how little it can cost to run a really good copier.

Office efficiency starts here.

Sit your office staff behind delapidated desks. Put them on rickety, uncomfortable chairs. Give them the benefit of rusty filing cabinets with sticking drawers. Then watch your company lose money! Obviously no self-respecting business man would deliberately create a situation like that. But it's surprising how many offices are run that way. The whole, sorry situation develops over the years—without anybody noticing. Outdated office equipment means poor office performance. Poor office performance wastes time, wastes money—and could lose you the best of your staff.
